

Longwood Symphony Orchestra Program

Jonathan McPhee, Artistic Director and Conductor
 Carl Nielsen - Symphony No. 4 The Inextinguishable
 Claude Debussy - La Mer
 Gene Scheer - Albert Schweitzer Portrait (2009)
Co-commissioned by Longwood Symphony Orchestra
Albert Schweitzer Fellowship
 State Representative Daniel Bosley, narrator

Sponsored by:

Symposium

Berkshire Children and Families and the Longwood Symphony Orchestra will also hold a symposium, "Inspiring Prevention" on Friday, June 11th from 9am - 4pm at the Berkshire Museum. The symposium will present new insights to strengthen the parent/child relationship through literacy, music and the art of parenting and weave together notable speakers with musical performances to underscore the rich opportunities for healing and healthy development for children. Public welcome.

Sponsored by:

photo on front by Kevin Sprague

We are pleased to invite you to a Longwood Symphony Orchestra concert

on

Saturday, June 12, 2010

to benefit Berkshire Children & Families, the most comprehensive child welfare agency in Western MA.

Berkshire Children & Families helps families to build their future through programs for parenting, family literacy, educational childcare, adoption and foster care.

Under the baton of Artistic Director and Conductor Jonathan McPhee, the Longwood Symphony Orchestra will perform a trio of works by Nielsen, Scheer and Debussy in its Ozawa Hall debut.

Through its Healing Art of Music™ program Longwood Symphony Orchestra, Boston's orchestra of medical professionals, has raised over $850,000 for medically related non profit organizations. www.longwoodsymphony.org

Concert: 8pm in Ozawa Hall, Tanglewood,
 297 West St. Lenox, MA

RSVP:

By mail: June 8
 By phone/email: June 10
 Tickets will be sold at the door.

Berkshire Children & Families 480 West Street, Pittsfield, MA 01201 220 Russell Street, Hadley, MA 01035

www.berkshirechildren.org